A Message from the Principal

Dear Hawk Ridge Elementary School families:

This is the second School Progress Report for Hawk Ridge Elementary. We are sending this to you so that you may be fully informed about our students' academic progress, our staff and our school environment.

In fall 2008, a School Quality Review was undertaken at Hawk Ridge Elementary. This review evaluated six facets of our school: achievement, curriculum, learning and teaching, leadership and management, learning environment and parental and community involvement. I am proud to report that Hawk Ridge received the highest possible ranking of High Quality. This ranking was certainly validated by our students' performance in the 2008-2009 school year.

Our K-3 Intensive Reading program has helped boost our students' progress. We use literacy tests that help us identify students' grasp of early reading skills. To summarize last year's proficiency rates: kindergarten, 97 percent; first grade, 92 percent; second grade, 91 percent; and third grade 98 percent. Early intervention is clearly the key to helping every child succeed.

Hawk Ridge students were successful on the End-of-Grade math test with an overall proficiency rate of 97.4 percent. Breaking down that composite result: third-grade proficiency rate was 98.8 percent; fourth-grade proficiency, 96.9 percent; and fifth-grade proficiency, 96.1 percent. All grade levels made either Expected Growth or High Growth in math.

Proficiency in the reading test was equally impressive: overall, 95 percent; third grade, 98.2 percent; fourth grade, 96.1 percent;

CMS Accountability Measures

The learning of students in public education is measured in multiple ways. There are assessments given at regular intervals by CMS—tests that we use to measure how students are learning as the school year progresses. Other tests are required by the state and given once or twice a year, such as End-of-Course and End-of-Grade tests. Some of the state test results are also used to calculate district progress on the federal standard of Adequate Yearly Progress for each student. This page provides brief explanations of some of the measures and tests used in CMS.

► Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP)

Our school DID make AYP
(13 of 13 goals met)

The federal No Child Left Behind Act requires that every school make Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP). AYP is an all-or-nothing standard: Every target must be met.

State test results are used to set AYP targets. There are separate targets for the school as a whole and for nine subgroups of students: white, black, Hispanic, Native American, Asian, multiracial, economically disadvantaged students, students with limited English proficiency and students with disabilities. Subgroups of students are measured separately so that an overall score for a class or a school does not mask poor results within a subgroup.

Some schools are more diverse than others, so the number of subgroups varies by school. Therefore, the number of AYP targets varies by school, too. Some schools may have only a few targets to meet; others may have the maximum, which is 41. School attendance and graduation rates are also measured for AYP.

For a more complete overview of AYP, visit www.dpi.state.nc.us/nclb/abcayp/overview/ayp

For details of AYP results for our school and its student groups, visit <http://ayp.ncpublicschools.org>

► ABC Designation

Our school's designation: Honor School of Excellence
(DID meet high growth expectations)

Proficiency: 95.7%

The North Carolina ABCs program was introduced more than a decade ago to help schools improve. It uses two basic measures to assess a school's performance: the Average Growth of students (at right); and the Performance Composite, which measures how well students performed against a state-set standard of academic achievement.

Schools are given one of seven designations. In descending order, they are: Honor School of Excellence, School of Excellence, School of Distinction, School of Progress, No Recognition, Priority School, and Low Performing.

For more information about ABCs, visit <http://abcs.ncpublicschools.org/abcs>

► Average Growth

State Standard: 80%
Our School: 86.4%

Did our students meet the state's expectation for academic growth? Each student is expected to perform as well (or better) on the End-of-Grade assessment as he or she did, on average, during the previous two years. Average Growth for a school is calculated by comparing actual performance to expected performance and then averaging the difference across all students and all subjects. The score above reflects the combined growth rate of all of our students. To make expected growth, a school must have a score of 80% or higher.

► Students Making or Exceeding a Year's Worth of Growth

State Standard: 60%
Our School: 72.5%

Did our students learn as much as they were expected to learn this year? As described above, the state sets expectations for each student based on individual performance for the previous two years. Across the state, about half of students typically meet or exceed this growth expectation. To earn the high-growth designation, a school must meet the average-growth standard described above and also have more than 60% of its students make expected growth.

► Amount of Growth for Students in the Lowest Achieving Group

Our School: 88.1%

Are we helping our low achievers catch up? Historically, some poor and minority students have trailed their classmates in academic achievement. This is called the achievement gap, and closing it is one of the biggest challenges in public education. If the lower-achieving students at a school show academic growth at a faster rate than higher-achieving students, the achievement gap is narrowed. When the percentage for this measure is higher than the Average Growth for the school, the school is closing the achievement gap.

► Positive Responses to Multiple Student Survey Items

Our School's Results:	Safety	94%
	Encouragement	96%
	Engagement	93%

Do our students perceive this school as safe and welcoming? This measure is subjective—it is taken from a student survey.

and fifth grade, 89.8 percent. All grade levels made Expected Growth or High Growth in reading.

In fifth-grade science, our proficiency rate was 92.2 percent, an increase of more than nine points from the previous year (without retests).

Our composite score on the End-of-Grade tests was an impressive 95.7 percent. We also made Adequate Yearly Progress, the standard set for schools by the No Child Left Behind Act, by meeting all of our targets.

The Hawk Ridge faculty is dedicated to our students and works to do whatever it takes to ensure student success. We currently have 48 certified staff, including administrative personnel. Of those, 32 percent are National Board-certified, 43 percent have master's degrees and all are highly qualified professional educators.

The Hawk Ridge community is very supportive of the school. The PTA and School Leadership Team work with the staff to make Hawk Ridge a holistic learning center. Last year, more than $50,000 was raised to purchase SMART Boards (interactive white boards), and parent participation was outstanding at our Science Fair, Science Olympiad Review, Multicultural Celebration, Hawk Fest and Bon Voyage Night.

The 2009-2010 school year marks the 10th anniversary of Hawk Ridge and this year is as full of promise for our students as that first year. As we continue to refine our successful initiatives, we look forward to inspiring the possibilities for our school community.

Sincerely,
Troy Moore
Principal

What is the School Progress Report?

In 2006, we introduced the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools Strategic Plan 2010 outlining our vision and strategy to educate our students to compete locally, nationally and internationally.

The plan outlines seven areas of concentration: high academic achievement; effective educators; adequate resources and facilities; safe and orderly schools; freedom and flexibility with accountability; world-class service, and strong parent and community connections. This report summarizes how our school performed in the 2008-09 school year in making progress on these seven goals. On page 3, you will also find an explanation of federal and state accountability measures.

Educators and parents have a common goal of preparing our children to compete in an ever-growing global community. Working together requires frequent dialogue between school and parents, so please feel free to contact the principal or any staff member at our school.
