

Huntersville Elementary School

A Message from the Principal

To our Huntersville Elementary School families:

This is the annual School Progress Report for Huntersville Elementary, part of our effort to keep families fully informed about students' academic progress, our staff and our school environment.

Huntersville has been designated a Blue Ribbon School. This is a national honor awarded for our demonstrated continual academic success and diligent work by teachers and staff. We are one out of six schools in North Carolina selected for this honor.

Huntersville made High Growth status last year. In 2008-2009, 96 percent of students were on grade level for math, and 92 percent were on grade level in reading. As a result, we met all of our goals and made Adequate Yearly Progress, the standard set for schools by the No Child Left Behind Act.

Huntersville continues to provide a rigorous curriculum for all students by flexibly grouping students for math and reading. This allows targeted skills to be addressed at individual students' performance levels. As our school grows in diversity, we are focusing on our English as a Second Language learners. We are also working this year to continue to provide outstanding extensions for our students in the Talent Development program.

Our entire faculty is designated highly qualified. Seventeen teachers currently hold National Board certification and 15 have advanced degrees (master's or higher). We continue to provide opportunities for teacher growth by offering outstanding professional development and workshops.

CMS Accountability Measures

The learning of students in public education is measured in multiple ways. There are assessments given at regular intervals by CMS—tests that we use to measure how students are learning as the school year progresses. Other tests are required by the state and given once or twice a year, such as End-of-Course and End-of-Grade tests. Some of the state test results are also used to calculate district progress on the federal standard of Adequate Yearly Progress for each student. This page provides brief explanations of some of the measures and tests used in CMS.

► Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP)

Our school DID make AYP
(17 of 17 goals met)

The federal No Child Left Behind Act requires that every school make Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP). AYP is an all-or-nothing standard: Every target must be met.

State test results are used to set AYP targets. There are separate targets for the school as a whole and for nine subgroups of students: white, black, Hispanic, Native American, Asian, multiracial, economically disadvantaged students, students with limited English proficiency and students with disabilities. Subgroups of students are measured separately so that an overall score for a class or a school does not mask poor results within a subgroup.

Some schools are more diverse than others, so the number of subgroups varies by school. Therefore, the number of AYP targets varies by school, too. Some schools may have only a few targets to meet; others may have the maximum, which is 41. School attendance and graduation rates are also measured for AYP.

For a more complete overview of AYP, visit www.dpi.state.nc.us/nclb/abcayp/overview/ayp

For details of AYP results for our school and its student groups, visit <http://ayp.ncpublicschools.org>

► ABC Designation

Our school's designation: Honor School of Excellence
(DID meet high growth expectations)

Proficiency: 92.6%

The North Carolina ABCs program was introduced more than a decade ago to help schools improve. It uses two basic measures to assess a school's performance: the Average Growth of students (at right); and the Performance Composite, which measures how well students performed against a state-set standard of academic achievement.

Schools are given one of seven designations. In descending order, they are: Honor School of Excellence, School of Excellence, School of Distinction, School of Progress, No Recognition, Priority School, and Low Performing.

For more information about ABCs, visit <http://abcs.ncpublicschools.org/abcs>

► Average Growth

State Standard: 80%
Our School: 84.5%

Did our students meet the state's expectation for academic growth? Each student is expected to perform as well (or better) on the End-of-Grade assessment as he or she did, on average, during the previous two years. Average Growth for a school is calculated by comparing actual performance to expected performance and then averaging the difference across all students and all subjects. The score above reflects the combined growth rate of all of our students. To make expected growth, a school must have a score of 80% or higher.

► Students Making or Exceeding a Year's Worth of Growth

State Standard: 60%
Our School: 66.5%

Did our students learn as much as they were expected to learn this year? As described above, the state sets expectations for each student based on individual performance for the previous two years. Across the state, about half of students typically meet or exceed this growth expectation. To earn the high-growth designation, a school must meet the average-growth standard described above and also have more than 60% of its students make expected growth.

► Amount of Growth for Students in the Lowest Achieving Group

Our School: 85.0%

Are we helping our low achievers catch up? Historically, some poor and minority students have trailed their classmates in academic achievement. This is called the achievement gap, and closing it is one of the biggest challenges in public education. If the lower-achieving students at a school show academic growth at a faster rate than higher-achieving students, the achievement gap is narrowed. When the percentage for this measure is higher than the Average Growth for the school, the school is closing the achievement gap.

► Positive Responses to Multiple Student Survey Items

Our School's Results:	Safety	98%
	Encouragement	100%
	Engagement	98%

Do our students perceive this school as safe and welcoming? This measure is subjective—it is taken from a student survey.

► Huntersville Elementary School

I am one of a small group of principals chosen to participate in a CMS initiative called Freedom and Flexibility with Accountability. This means I have been given additional freedom in instructional decisions for Huntersville to continue to uphold our high standards and growth.

We will all continue to work as a community to raise student achievement. Again this year, we will offer Breakfast Buddies to provide tutorials for students before school. Our special-areas staff continues to offer instructional support, working with small groups or one-on-one with students.

I am confident our students will continue to excel in all areas. Huntersville values an environment of respect where teachers and students are treated fairly. We have a warm, supportive staff that continuously works to differentiate instruction to ensure all students' academic needs are met.

There is low staff turnover, and this year started with no new homeroom teachers. Our PTA continues to be the backbone of our school and to generate funds to provide numerous resources to Huntersville.

School population, highly qualified teachers, a strong PTA and focused instructional programs that promote student learning lead to the remarkable level of success here at Huntersville each year. We are proud to be a Blue Ribbon School.

Sincerely,
Deborah Mangieri
Principal

What is the School Progress Report?

In 2006, we introduced the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools Strategic Plan 2010 outlining our vision and strategy to educate our students to compete locally, nationally and internationally.

The plan outlines seven areas of concentration: high academic achievement; effective educators; adequate resources and facilities; safe and orderly schools; freedom and flexibility with accountability; world-class service, and strong parent and community connections. This report summarizes how our school performed in the 2008-09 school year in making progress on these seven goals. On page 3, you will also find an explanation of federal and state accountability measures.

Educators and parents have a common goal of preparing our children to compete in an ever-growing global community. Working together requires frequent dialogue between school and parents, so please feel free to contact the principal or any staff member at our school.
