

Selwyn Elementary School

A Message from the Principal

To our Selwyn Elementary School families:

This is the annual School Progress Report for Selwyn Elementary. We want you to be fully informed about our students' academic progress, our staff and our school environment.

Each year, more families in the area choose Selwyn as their home school. To meet this demand, we have added new staff members this year, and we have moved into the Upper School (old Selwyn building), occupying all 16 classrooms in that building.

School year 2008-2009 was a successful one for Selwyn, and our students continue to grow and achieve. Our goal of academic success for all students is encapsulated by our mission statement: "All students are motivated, challenged and prepared for the next level of academic development."

On last year's state End-of-Grade math test, 94.7 percent of our students scored at or above grade level, and we earned High Growth status in that subject. Our reading proficiency rate improved to 90.6 percent, but we missed out on making High Growth. Our school's composite proficiency rate across all tested areas, however, was sufficient to earn us High Growth status overall.

I am pleased to report that we made Adequate Yearly Progress, the standard set for schools by the No Child Left Behind Act. We met all 13 of our goals.

Moving forward, we will use data on a regular basis to monitor student achievement and use our findings to develop strategies aimed at increasing our rate of growth. At the same time, we will work on narrowing the achievement gap between certain subgroups.

CMS Accountability Measures

The learning of students in public education is measured in multiple ways. There are assessments given at regular intervals by CMS—tests that we use to measure how students are learning as the school year progresses. Other tests are required by the state and given once or twice a year, such as End-of-Course and End-of-Grade tests. Some of the state test results are also used to calculate district progress on the federal standard of Adequate Yearly Progress for each student. This page provides brief explanations of some of the measures and tests used in CMS.

► Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP)

Our school DID make AYP
(13 of 13 goals met)

The federal No Child Left Behind Act requires that every school make Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP). AYP is an all-or-nothing standard: Every target must be met.

State test results are used to set AYP targets. There are separate targets for the school as a whole and for nine subgroups of students: white, black, Hispanic, Native American, Asian, multiracial, economically disadvantaged students, students with limited English proficiency and students with disabilities. Subgroups of students are measured separately so that an overall score for a class or a school does not mask poor results within a subgroup.

Some schools are more diverse than others, so the number of subgroups varies by school. Therefore, the number of AYP targets varies by school, too. Some schools may have only a few targets to meet; others may have the maximum, which is 41. School attendance and graduation rates are also measured for AYP.

For a more complete overview of AYP, visit www.dpi.state.nc.us/nclb/abcayp/overview/ayp

For details of AYP results for our school and its student groups, visit <http://ayp.ncpublicschools.org>

► ABC Designation

Our school's designation: Honor School of Excellence
(DID meet high growth expectations)

Proficiency: 91.3%

The North Carolina ABCs program was introduced more than a decade ago to help schools improve. It uses two basic measures to assess a school's performance: the Average Growth of students (at right); and the Performance Composite, which measures how well students performed against a state-set standard of academic achievement.

Schools are given one of seven designations. In descending order, they are: Honor School of Excellence, School of Excellence, School of Distinction, School of Progress, No Recognition, Priority School, and Low Performing.

For more information about ABCs, visit <http://abcs.ncpublicschools.org/abcs>

► Average Growth

State Standard: 80%
Our School: 83.5%

Did our students meet the state's expectation for academic growth? Each student is expected to perform as well (or better) on the End-of-Grade assessment as he or she did, on average, during the previous two years. Average Growth for a school is calculated by comparing actual performance to expected performance and then averaging the difference across all students and all subjects. The score above reflects the combined growth rate of all of our students. To make expected growth, a school must have a score of 80% or higher.

► Students Making or Exceeding a Year's Worth of Growth

State Standard: 60%
Our School: 64.1%

Did our students learn as much as they were expected to learn this year? As described above, the state sets expectations for each student based on individual performance for the previous two years. Across the state, about half of students typically meet or exceed this growth expectation. To earn the high-growth designation, a school must meet the average-growth standard described above and also have more than 60% of its students make expected growth.

► Amount of Growth for Students in the Lowest Achieving Group

Our School: 80.7%

Are we helping our low achievers catch up? Historically, some poor and minority students have trailed their classmates in academic achievement. This is called the achievement gap, and closing it is one of the biggest challenges in public education. If the lower-achieving students at a school show academic growth at a faster rate than higher-achieving students, the achievement gap is narrowed. When the percentage for this measure is higher than the Average Growth for the school, the school is closing the achievement gap.

► Positive Responses to Multiple Student Survey Items

Our School's Results:	Safety	95%
	Encouragement	99%
	Engagement	96%

Do our students perceive this school as safe and welcoming? This measure is subjective—it is taken from a student survey.

► Selwyn Elementary School

This school year, we are using Math Investigations, a new program designed to enhance students' problem-solving skills and comprehension of math concepts. We also offer a Talent Development program for our high-performing students in grades two through five.

Much of Selwyn's success may be attributed to the support of a strong PTA. In tandem with other family supporters, the PTA has recently purchased SMART Boards (interactive white boards) for all classrooms in grades two through five. We greatly appreciate the PTA's financial support and involvement in our programs and activities.

We have an excellent staff at Selwyn, which this year includes 54 certified staff members and 13 instructional assistants. Among our faculty, we have three specially trained teachers and assistants who work with our autistic children.

At Selwyn, character education is a priority, and monthly assemblies highlight the character trait of the month. All students are encouraged to demonstrate good manners and become responsible and caring citizens.

In light of the general economic situation, we have faced some budgetary challenges over the last year. Our focus on student learning, however, remains unwavering. It will take all of us working together to ensure that every one of our students is successful and globally competitive. I am dedicated to leading us, with your support, to higher levels of learning and achievement.

Sincerely,
Linda Mintz
Principal

What is the School Progress Report?

In 2006, we introduced the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools Strategic Plan 2010 outlining our vision and strategy to educate our students to compete locally, nationally and internationally.

The plan outlines seven areas of concentration: high academic achievement; effective educators; adequate resources and facilities; safe and orderly schools; freedom and flexibility with accountability; world-class service, and strong parent and community connections. This report summarizes how our school performed in the 2008-09 school year in making progress on these seven goals. On page 3, you will also find an explanation of federal and state accountability measures.

Educators and parents have a common goal of preparing our children to compete in an ever-growing global community. Working together requires frequent dialogue between school and parents, so please feel free to contact the principal or any staff member at our school.
